

2019 FLASH SESSION SCHEDULE

All sessions: Becker Rm. 400, 10:05-10:20 a.m.
No RSVP required. Refreshments served.

Feb. 7 – Mobile Medical Apps

- Medical apps provided via library subscriptions
- What's available and how to access

March 7 – Resources for Point of Care

- Embase PICO
- Clinical Key
- TRIP database
- Micromedex
- LexiComp

April 4 – EndNote: Getting Organized (Room 300)

- Create a library, storing and organizing references
- Create a bibliography
- Grab PDF articles
- Software discount ($22 students, $44 faculty/staff)
- Add EndNote citations to a Word document

May 2 – PubMed

- Create a free MyNCBI account
- Set up an auto-alert service
- Why search with MeSH
- MeSH vs natural language (keyword)

June 6 – EndNote: Removing Duplicate Citations

- Export and save citations from multiple databases
- Import and format from multiple databases
- Identify and delete duplicate records

July 11 – Rayyan QCRI App

- Screening tools for systematic/scoping reviews
- Demonstration of the free app, Rayyan
- Exporting results out of Rayyan

Aug. 1 – E-books

- Accessing e-books
- E-books on mobile devices
- Reading or downloading e-books

*Individual or customized group sessions are also available!
Contact Kim Lipsey at 314-362-4733 or lipseyk@wustl.edu.*

Graphic elements designed by Freepik

FLASH SESSIONS

15-Minute
Overviews from
Expert Librarians
1st Thursday of each month